

Adding a Gmail Account to Apple Mail

A step-by-step walkthrough for connecting a Gmail or Google Workspace account to the iPhone Mail app.

~3 min

Need: email + password

Note: have your 2FA method ready

01

Open the Mail app

Tap the Mail icon (blue envelope) on your Home Screen.

Already using Mail with another account? Go to Settings → Mail → Accounts → Add Account to reach the same setup screen.

02

Choose your provider

On the Welcome to Mail screen, tap Google.

Enter the email address

When the `accounts.google.com` page loads, type your full address — `yourname@crosbydevelopment.com` — replacing `yourname` with your own username, then tap Next.

Seeing “Couldn’t find your Google Account”? Check for typos and confirm it’s a real Google / Workspace account before retrying.

04

Enter the password

Type the account password, then tap Next.

If two-factor authentication is on, complete the verification prompt (code, key, or phone approval) when asked.

Confirm the sign-in

Google shows a “Sign in to iOS” screen listing the info it will share — name, profile picture, and email address. Tap Continue.

06

Grant account access

On “iOS wants access to your Google Account,” leave Select all checked (Gmail, Contacts, Calendar) and tap Continue at the bottom.

These permissions let Mail send and receive email and sync contacts and calendar. Keep them enabled for full functionality.

Choose what to sync

Mail shows toggles for Mail, Contacts, Calendars, and Notes. Turn on everything you want synced to this iPhone, then tap Save.

08

Or keep it mail-only

Prefer email only? Leave just Mail on and switch the others off before tapping Save. Useful when a device only needs the inbox — not the shared contacts or calendar.

Allow notifications

If prompted with “Mail Would Like to Send You Notifications,” tap Allow for new-message alerts, or Don’t Allow to keep it quiet.

10

Find your mailboxes

From the Mailboxes list, expand the Gmail account to see all its folders — Drafts, Sent, Junk, Trash, All Mail, and any custom labels.

Confirm it works

Open the Inbox and send a quick test email to the account. When it arrives, setup is complete.

|                                            |                                                                                  |
|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| "Couldn't find your Google Account" | Check the address for typos; confirm the account exists.                         |
| Password rejected                   | Reset via Forgot password? , or complete any active 2FA prompt.           |
| Mail not appearing                  | Settings → Mail → Accounts → [account] → make sure Mail is toggled on.    |
| Sync stopped working                | Remove and re-add the account, or re-authorize under Settings → Mail → Accounts. |

NEED A HAND?

For any general questions, email ryan@crosbydevelopment.com.