

Email Migration Guide

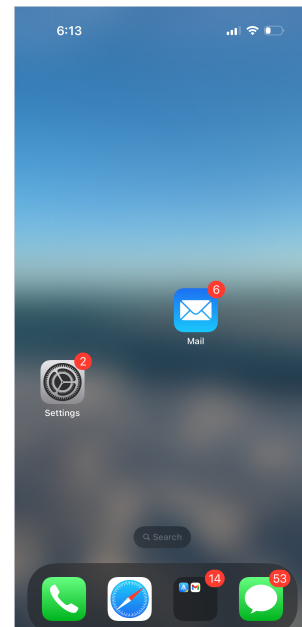

Moving your Crosby Development email from the old server to Google Workspace

This guide walks you through removing the old Crosby Development email account from the iPhone Mail app and re-adding it through Google Workspace. It takes about 5 minutes. You will need your crosbydevelopment.com email address and password ready before you start.

Phase 1 — Remove the old email account

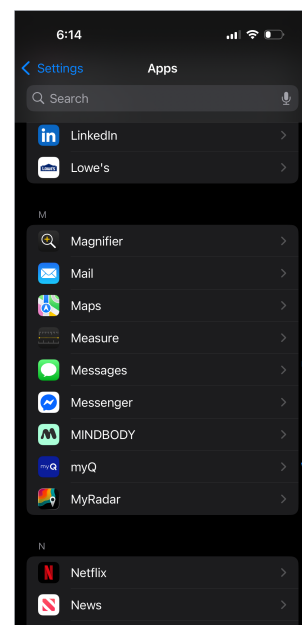

1 Open Settings

On your iPhone home screen, tap the Settings app.

2 Go to Apps → Mail

Scroll down and tap Apps, then find and tap Mail in the list.

3 Open Mail Accounts

On the Mail screen, tap Mail Accounts at the top.

4 Select the old account

Tap the existing ryan@crosbydevelopment.com account (the one labeled "Mail").

5 Tap Delete Account

Scroll to the bottom of the account screen and tap Delete Account in red.

6 Confirm the deletion

A pop-up will appear. Tap Delete Account again to confirm. The account will disappear from the list once it finishes.

Phase 2 — Re-add it through Google Workspace

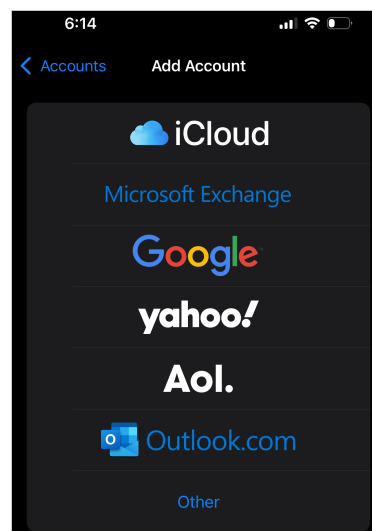

7 Tap Add Account

Back on the Mail Accounts screen, tap Add Account.

8 Choose Google

From the list of providers, tap Google.

9 Enter your email

Type your full ryan@crosbydevelopment.com address and tap Next.

10 Enter your password

Type your Workspace password and tap Next.

11 Continue signing in

On the “You’re signing back in to iOS” screen, tap Continue.

12 Grant access

On the “iOS wants access to your Google Account” screen, tap Continue.

13 Choose what to sync

Turn Mail ON, and turn Contacts, Calendars, and Notes OFF so nothing gets duplicated. Then tap Save.

14 You're done

The account now appears back in Mail Accounts and email will begin loading into your inbox.

What to expect

Your inbox may look thin at first. New mail arrives right away, but the full history of older emails backfills as Google syncs in the background — this can take through the weekend to fully repopulate. That is normal; nothing is lost.
